

Examiner says 'evident' as 'July 1916'.

Background to the Castle document

THE letter from Mrs. Maria A. Smyth in Monday's IRISH PRESS on the subject of the IRISH PRESS is "what is known as 'The Castle Document'" of April, 1916, is additional reason for suggesting that there should be undertaken by some competent historian a cold objective examination of the document's origin and authenticity and the circumstances in which it was printed, compiled and published.

There is no mention of the name of the printer in the letter, but it is known that the document was printed in Dublin in 1916. The name of the printer is given in the document as 'The Castle Document'.

DEFECTIVE STATEMENTS

A review has been made of the statements of the various persons named in the document, and it is found that many of them are defective.

'IMPORTANT INFORMATION'

It is to be noted that the information given in the document is of a very important nature, and it is therefore of great interest to the public to know the truth about it.

CATHAL O'SHANNON

E. J. LITTLE

An examination is needed now, says Cathal O'Shannon

THE publication of the document in the IRISH PRESS has caused a great deal of interest, and it is now necessary to have a cold objective examination of the document's origin and authenticity.

MAN WITH OPPORTUNITY

It is to be noted that the man with the opportunity to do this work is a man of great ability and energy, and it is therefore of great interest to the public to know the truth about it.

GOT WHOLE TEXT

It is to be noted that the whole text of the document is now available to the public, and it is therefore of great interest to the public to know the truth about it.

UNFAMILIAR REFERENCES

It is to be noted that the document contains many references to persons and places which are unfamiliar to the general public, and it is therefore of great interest to the public to know the truth about it.

THE IRISH PRESS, 1916.

PRESENT AT DECODING

It is to be noted that the present at the decoding of the document is a man of great ability and energy, and it is therefore of great interest to the public to know the truth about it.

WHERE'S THE WRITING?

It is to be noted that the writing of the document is of a very important nature, and it is therefore of great interest to the public to know the truth about it.

DONE ON HANDPRESS?

It is to be noted that the document was done on handpress, and it is therefore of great interest to the public to know the truth about it.

ADDITIONAL FLOURISH

It is to be noted that the document contains many additional flourishes, and it is therefore of great interest to the public to know the truth about it.

LIBRARY IS SHUT

It is to be noted that the library is now shut, and it is therefore of great interest to the public to know the truth about it.